Hi Everyone,

Greetings to you all! Trust your summer is going great and you are enjoying every minute of it.

In the past five days I have been in my glaucoma doc's office twice. Last Friday was a regular checkup time. At this time it was found that the pressure in my operated eye had gone down too low; and because of this, it did a bit of damage to the back of my eye. – one of which caused some bleeding. I was sent home with new drops for the eye and told to come back yesterday, (Monday). Some of the damage was restored back to normal, however, the bleeding still continues. I was told this bleeding will eventually stop; as I was told everything takes time to heal in the eye.

God is answering your prayers – THANKS for praying!!!

PRAISE HIM

- As He has, and continues to do His work in the healing process of my eyes. Thanks for praying

PRAY

- For continued healing and soon stopping of bleeding in my eye
- For the good pressure of yesterday to stay steady and not “yo-yo-ing”
- For me as I am to continue the restrictions put on me
- For me in how to get across to folks overseas it won't be any time soon my coming

So appreciate all your care, love and prayers. THANKS bundles!! AND THANKS for wanting to pray and doing so for me.

Love,
Rosie
